Made with Pamela's Bread Mix.

Yield: 50-75 mini tart shells, depending on thickness

Ingredients

Crust

- 1 recipe Pamela's Easy Pie Crust from Pamela's Gluten-Free Bread Mix

Quiche Filling

- 3 eggs
- 1 cup cream
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 tsp salt
- 1/8 tsp pepper
- Divide filling in half to make both flavors.
- For LORRAINE add to 1/2 egg mixture:
  - 1/2 tsp chives finely chopped
  - 2 tbsp finely chopped crispy bacon, about 2 pieces
  - 2 tbsp finely chopped and slowly cooked onion
  - 1/4 cup finely grated Swiss cheese
- For FLORENTINE add to 1/2 egg mixture:
  - 1-1/2 cup spinach-lightly steamed and chopped finely (see below for method)
  - 1/4 cup finely grated Swiss cheese
  - 1/4 tsp grated nutmeg

Directions

Crust:

To prepare the dough follow Pamela's Easy Pie Crust instructions (to prepare, do not bake). Divide into two disks and chill in plastic wrap.

For Quiche Lorraine:

Mix 1/2 of total quiche filling with all of the Lorraine mixture. Set aside.

For Quiche Florentine:

To steam the spinach: put 2 tablespoons water in frying pan, turn on the heat, add the spinach, on goes the lid, 2 minutes, strain, squeeze excess water from spinach and chop finely. Mix 1/2 of total quiche filling with all of the Florentine mixture. Set aside.

Roll out dough in two batches between plastic wrap or parchment. Cut out 2-inch circles. Use a tart tamper or your hands to push into mini muffin pans, squeezing up the sides. Alternatively, you can roll the dough into a ball and press into the pan with either a tart tamper or your fingers.

Fill with quiche filling. If you don't have the mini muffin pans, use the metallic mini muffin cups on a cookie sheet for a slightly larger version. Fill half of the crust cups with Lorraine filling and half with Florentine filling.

Bake in a preheated 375° oven for 15 to 17 minutes, until filling is set and tops are just starting to color.
